

MATE

Of Democratic Nominee May Be Ex-Gov. Campbell

APPROVED BY BRYAN

Butler Delegation Receives Invitation from Nebraskan

Will Spend Sunday at His Farm Near Lincoln Before Proceeding to Denver.

Hamilton, O., June 25.—It became known here yesterday that the name of former Governor James E. Campbell, who is the Democratic nominee for United States senator in Ohio, will be presented to the national Democratic convention in Denver for the vice presidency. This information comes from well informed sources and there is reason to believe that the step is to be taken with the consent and active approval of William J. Bryan.

This belief is given color by the fact that an invitation was received by the Butler county delegation to spend Sunday, July 7, with Mr. Bryan and his guests at his farm near Lincoln. The local party, headed by C. E. Mason and Judge C. C. Foos the Third District delegates, will leave Hamilton on July 4 in a special car, and will arrive in Lincoln on Sunday morning. The local men will go to church with Mr. Bryan, and then go to the farm for a big dinner and a talk. It is probable that Mr. Bryan will accompany the Hamilton men to Denver.

The rumor of Campbell's candidacy for the vice presidency is taken very seriously here.

SISTERS ELOPE AND ARE MARRIED

Elkton, Md., June 25.—Society at Perryman was surprised when it heard that Misses Georgia and Mildred Asher, sisters, of that town, figured in a double elopement. Their companions were John E. Garey and W. S. McFadden. Mr. Garey is a merchant and Mr. McFadden a telegraph operator at Perryman.

The four journeyed to Philadelphia, where a double wedding was to have been celebrated, but at the City Hall it was discovered that Miss Georgia Asher was too young to have a marriage license issued without her parents' consent, which was lacking.

Then the quartet crossed the river to Camden, where Justice H. F. Redding performed two ceremonies. They returned home and the marriages were kept a secret until yesterday. The brides were forgiven by their parents and plans were made for a reception.

TEDDY, JR., GETS DEGREE.
Cambridge, Mass., June 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., son of the President, was given his bachelor's degree by Harvard university, after three years of study, having taken extra courses.

BASHFUL DAN IS LANDED

Jerseyville, Ill., June 25.—Daniel Matthews, caretaker of Jerseyville's Methodist church, was married yesterday to Miss Mary Fraser. They took an early train to spend the day at Roodhouse, promising to return last night.

Two years ago Matthews twice disappointed Mrs. Mary Miller once at the altar and once at the marriage license office. While watching the New Year's arrival January 1 with Miss Mary Fraser Cupid made a leap year conquest of Matthews, but June 7 his mother cried at the thought of his leaving her and he failed to appear at the altar. Miss Fraser later consented to marry him last Sunday, when he again failed to appear. He explained that his mother was sick Sunday.

LIVES LOST IN EXPLOSION

St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—At least a half dozen persons are believed to have lost their lives in an explosion of the gasoline launch, Midget, near Carondelet. The wrecked launch was found on the river bank today, but there is no trace of John Kruser, the owner, or the party of friends he took on a fishing trip yesterday.

JEWELRY

Flowed in by the Peck When "Gift of Tongues" Exhorter Asked For Help.

Alliance, O., June 25.—Continuous night and day meetings of several hundred believers in the "Gift of Tongues" creed reached a climax last night at the camp revival near here, when men and women responded to Rev. Levi Lupton's call for help, by casting at his feet a half bushel of watches, jewelry and money. The revival is in full swing. The faithful pray, sing and shout. Trances, convulsions and stupors mark the reception of the spirit by different believers. Every person in camp looks forward to the repetition of miracles recorded in the Bible.

REFRESHED

WAS VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE AFTER A LONG SLEEP.

No Present Necessity of an Operation and Patient is Entirely Out of Danger.

Cleveland, O., June 25.—Congressman Jas. S. Sherman spent a comfortable night. He slept five hours continuously and was much refreshed. His temperature was 100, a decrease of 1.6; his pulse 80 and respiration 24. He had suffered comparatively little pain and his condition generally showed marked improvement.

It was agreed that he would not be able to leave Lakeside hospital for at least a week. By that time it is thought he will have recovered sufficiently to withstand the fatigue of a journey to his home at Ulen, N. Y. The attending physicians are satisfied that there is no present necessity of an operation.

Dr. W. T. Bull of New York, Dr. William Mayo of Rochester, Minn. and other specialists who have been notified to hold their axes in readiness for a call to Cleveland have been notified they will not be needed. Unless there is an unexpected turn for the worse the patient is entirely out of danger.

KNIFE BATTLE AT FAIRPOINT

Fairpoint, O., June 25.—Foreign born men engaged in a knife battle near here this morning, and 12 were stabbed. Of these two are dying, two are probably fatally injured, and the others are badly cut. The sheriff and six deputies arrested those less seriously injured.

MAY NAVIGATE THE WHIRLPOOL

New York, June 25.—Vassily Rebkoff, a Russian inventor of a "pneumatic boat" is here to navigate the turbulent waters of the Niagara whirlpool. The boat is 12 feet long, three feet beam and draws only 3-4 of an inch. It is propelled by a motor, and instead of going through the water skips over it. Rebkoff has been experimenting with the boat in the raging streams of Europe and is confident that he can navigate the whirlpool.

RUSSIAN LION

Reported Dead at Aix les Chapelles, Where He Had Gone for His Health—Not Confirmed.

London, June 25.—It is rumored here that George Hackenschmidt, the wrestler, is dead at Aix les Chapelles, where he went several weeks ago to recover from injuries sustained in his wrestling match with Frank Gotch, in which he lost the world's championship to the American. The report is as yet unconfirmed.

TAFT TO CUT LOOSE

Washington, June 25.—Secretary Taft will cut loose from Oyster Bay until after election, according to information received here. His purpose is to give the Democrats no opportunity to declare his campaign is being directed by President Roosevelt.

After the present series of conferences he is to have a clear understanding with the President that the two shall not meet again during the campaign. If they want to confer on really important matters the long-distance telephone will be used.

SIX DEAD

As Result of Explosion in Chemical Company's Rooms in Chicago Building.

Chicago, June 25.—Six people, a man, woman and four children were burned to death and eight girls and two men were badly burned or otherwise injured by a fire which resulted from an explosion in the rooms of the Pacific Chemical company, 110 and 112 Wells streets, today. The company occupies the ground and third floors of the building.

The dead include Mrs. William Nolan and her four children, ranging from 1 to 13 years, and an unknown man, found dead in the basement. Compelled to flee, the 30 persons were injured, seven probably fatally. Many of the injured worked for the P. L. Nolan company in the building. Of these, five are young girls and it is thought they inhaled flames. The company had a plant on the second floor. Above were two floors of flats and on the upper floor Mrs. Nolan and her children were found.

MANY PERSONS FLOGGED

Houses are Shelled and Scores Arrested by Shah's Orders

Danger for Everyone, Both Natives and Foreigners—Reign of Terror Prevails.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—Unless Mohamden Ali Misha, Shah of Persia, quickly restores order in his country, he will be dethroned by the powers and his uncle, Prince Zill Es Sultan, enthroned in his place. This warning has already been sent to the Shah by Russian and English representatives. Other powers are willing to second this demand. Russia and England have also joined in a demand on the Shah for an explanation of the reported secret killing of scores of reformers. Today the Shah ordered the execution of those who have had part in the uprising. Wholesale arrests are being made of Angumans and other popular leaders, many being condemned to death without trials.

Tehran, June 25.—Twenty men have been arrested and Melek El Motakelmin, a preacher, and Djaugir, the editor of a paper, were hanged in the Shah's camp, and many other severely flogged.

Said Abdullah, president of the parliament, was insulted, spar upon and beaten by the populace while he was conducting to the Daghsah about 30 prisoners, among whom were Taghi Zadeh, a deputy, who had taken refuge in the British legation.

The Cossacks stationed in front of the legation do not know whether to protect or forbid any persons to enter.

The Shah has assured the foreign ministers that he has no intention of canceling the constitution.

He sent for the priest and several influential people and told them to take steps for a new election, house and senate. There are many versions concerning the man who threw a bomb into the Shah's camp, killing six soldiers. The perpetrator was arrested and confessed, and then was sent to the house of Zadir Eldowich, where his alleged accomplices still were.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION ON DEATH OF MR. CLEVELAND

OYSTER BAY, June 25.—President Roosevelt Wednesday issued the following proclamation on the death of former President Cleveland.

By the President of the United States:
A PROCLAMATION.
[The White House, June 24, 1908.]

To all people of the United States:
Grover Cleveland, president of the United States from 1887 to 1889, and again from 1893 to 1897, died at 8:10 a. m. this morning at his home in Princeton, N. J. In his death the nation has been deprived of one of its great statesmen. In his profession as a lawyer, his chief services to his country were rendered during a long, varied and honorable career in public life. As mayor of his city, as governor of his state, and twice as president, he has shown signal power as an administrator, coupled with a sincere devotion to the country's good and a courage that qualified him to stand up to the most difficult situations which his duty lay. Since his retirement from the presidency, he continued well and to the full to enjoy his countrymen by the simplicity, dignity and attractiveness of his private life.

It is the duty of the government to hold in its memory the life of the government and to the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flag on the White House and the several departmental buildings be flown at half-staff to the day of the funeral, and that suitable military and naval honors, under the orders of the secretaries of war and of the navy, be rendered on the day of the funeral.

Done this twenty-fourth day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eight, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and thirty-second (132d).
THEODORE ROOSEVELT
ALVEY A. ADEE, Acting Secretary of State.

President Roosevelt also sent the following message to Mrs. Cleveland:
Oyster Bay, June 24, 1908.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Princeton, N. J.
Your telegram shocked me greatly. Mrs. Roosevelt joins in very deep and sincere sympathy.

SHERMAN PLEDGED LIFE THAT NO INSULTS WOULD BE OFFERED CLEVELAND

St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—A letter from General William Tecumseh Sherman to General John W. Noble and D. P. Dyer, advising the Grand Army of the Republic to invite President Grover Cleveland to its encampment here in 1888 and to show him every courtesy, was recalled today Cleveland's vetoes of pension bills caused threats of insults. He did not attend. The letter says in part:

"The rumor of your trouble in St. Louis reached here by telegraph and has lost nothing by distance. The Grand Army of the Republic is composed exclusively of men who served in the armies and navy of the Union, to which Mr. Cleveland does not belong, and he therefore cannot participate in its proceedings, but the moment the Grand Army emerges from its hall of deliberation it becomes, like Free Masons, Odd Fellows and other societies of good men, associated for a noble purpose a part of the general community, subject to the laws and usages of that community."

"Mr. Cleveland is president of the United States by a fair election of all the people commander in chief of the army and navy, and should a foreign ship fail to do him full honors none will be so quick to resent the insult as the members of the Grand Army."

"The idea of his being insulted, much less endangered, should he be on the stand alongside our commander in chief, General Fairchild, seems to me monstrous, and I pledge my life that no Iowa soldier will do an unfairly act, and should Mr. Cleveland accept the invitation, which I hope he will, to attend the parade of the Grand Army at St. Louis on September 28 next, I will stand by his side or Post, as may be ordered by General Fairchild."

"Honest men differ on this question of pensions widely, but all want to do what is right."

"Instead of the Grand Army meeting only in loyal states, I am in favor of meeting hereafter in Nashville, Chattanooga and Richmond, following the example of the armies of the Union."

"I am always your friend,
"W. T. SHERMAN."

CLEVELAND'S LAST LETTER URGED STUDY OF THE BIBLE

Baltimore, June 25.—The last thing to come from the pen of the late Grover Cleveland is to be contained in the introduction of a book written by Rev. Peter Ainslie, pastor of the Fulton Avenue Christian Temple here, for the use of his Bible classes. The title of the book is "Among the Gospels and the Acts," being a life of Christ, and the story of the first 30 years of Rev. Ainslie's church. (Continued on page 5, Col. 4.)

ACUTE

Becomes Situation by Legation's Withdrawal

AWAITING MR. SLEEPER

Government of Washington Acts Promptly in the Matter

Declination of Venezuelan Government to Issue Passports Regarded as Hatelful Sign.

Washington, June 25.—The Venezuelan situation has become so acute by the withdrawal of the United States of its legation at Caracas that speculation is rife as to the next step to be taken by the President.

Developments show clearly that President Castro has instructed his minister here to remain until he be given his passports, so that Castro will be able to say that the two preliminary aggressive steps were taken by the United States—the withdrawal of its legation and the dismissal of the Venezuelan minister.

This diplomacy of Castro is, however, transparent to the state department officials, the highest in rank of whom is Alvah A. Adee, who will take no step that is not ordered direct from Oyster Bay.

The state department is obviously smoothing over the present tense situation by declaring that there is nothing unusual in it, and points to the fact that France has twice withdrawn her minister from Venezuela, and that other European nations are about to act in the same way, without necessarily declaring war.

The United States is acting promptly, and it is believed would have ordered the charge d'affaires, Jacob Sleeper, home earlier but for the belief that it would have been charged to the President that he was only waiting for Congress to adjourn to handle the case himself.

It is not expected that any further steps will be taken until the arrival here of Mr. Sleeper. The orders to the Marietta, which is to bring him home are that she should proceed to Porto Cabello from Curacao. The United States has kept a vessel in Venezuela for this purpose ever since it ordered the Tacoma to La Guayra secretly. An accident to that vessel, however, necessitated bringing her home to Norfolk for repairs.

Acting Secretary Adee has communicated with Secretary Root, and it is probable that a conference will soon be held between Secretary Root, Assistant Secretary Bacon and Acting Secretary Adee.

The navy department has only meager advices from Venezuela. The seaports of that country have been shunned by merchant ships on account of the plague. Naval movements in that quarter have been confined to those made by the little gunboat Marietta.

The declination of the Venezuelan government to issue passports to Sleeper at his request is regarded by the Latin-American element in this city as a rather hateful sign. They believe that Sleeper did not demand his passports as a political step, but rather with the purpose of insuring free passage for the legation party through the rigorous quarantine lines, which would have to be crossed to take ship.

THROAT

Of Woman Bore Finger Prints Showing How She Died—Adrift in Trunk.

Houston, Texas, June 25.—The nude body of a woman, believed to have been mysteriously murdered within the past 48 hours, was found packed in a trunk and adrift on Buffalo Bayou. The throat bore finger prints, showing that she had evidently met death by strangling.

C. B. Meadows of Ft. Worth, was arrested, charged with the murder. He claims the woman died a natural death, and says her name is Alice Conner, alias Meadows.

BRIGHTWOOD COMPANY

HAS OFFERED INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION ITS CAR LINES.

Panama Canal Commission Will Regulate Living of Bachelors—Spain Awakening on Timber.

Washington, June 25.—The Interstate Commerce Commission may be embarrassed considerably in the near future with a large active, strenuous, and loud White Elephant, unless its officials can figure out some way in which to sidestep the burden.

At its last session Congress delegated to the commission the task of regulating the street car lines of the national capital. Washingtonians brought a lot of pressure on the legislators for a universal transfer system for the city, and demanded a sweeping improvement in conditions. Congress was simply besieged with petitions. And the legislators hadn't time to delve deep into the matter, being so busy concocting gag rules and listening to roll calls. Therefore the matter was shelved onto the Interstate Commerce Commission which is now experiencing the same influx of petitions.

Citizens residing in Brightwood, a suburb in the northern part of the city, recently came forward with a vociferous howl for through car service. At the present time they must transfer at the city limits to another car. They demand that the Brightwood Car company give them through service to downtown points. The Brightwood suburbanites came out with another petition, asserting the car company was subverting the truth or words to that effect. The Interstate Commerce Commission dutifully forwarded this deft to the company.

Now the Brightwood car people come forth with an astonishing ultimatum. In brief, they declare that if the commission wants to accede to the citizens' demands and run through cars, they can just take the old

A CASE OF RAPID PROMOTION.

(Original)

When Alexis Niederhoff was drafted into the Russian army there was great weeping and wailing on the part of two families, his own and that of his betrothed, Olga Samin. This was during the reign of Peter the Great, who was at the time going to war, and the young conscript was not likely to return.

"Well," said Alexis as he bade them goodbye, "anyway, I will make a soldier of myself. If I am told to march up to certain death I will go. If the officers tell me to do things, no matter how absurd, I will do them. I have no desire to live now that I am separated from home and Olga, and I care not how soon I am killed."

Alexis went off to a barracks to be turned into a soldier. His commanding officer had no need to lecture him as to the importance of obedience, for Alexis' determination to make a military machine of himself only grew stronger with his absence from home. When he had been drilled till he could march by the flank or wheel or double march as if worked by springs, instead of being sent to the front to do guard duty at the czar's palace.

One day Alexis was stationed inside the palace with a beat past a door which he was told to guard. "In there," said his captain, "is his majesty the emperor. Do not permit any one to enter."

"Not any one?"

"That is the order. See that it is obeyed."

The officer had scarcely left when Prince Menschikoff, the czar's favorite minister, came up and made straight for the door of the czar's apartment.

"You can't go in there!" shouted Alexis, placing himself in the minister's way.

"You fool! I am allowed free access to his majesty at all times."

"That makes no difference to me since I have been instructed to let no one pass."

"You impudent hound!" exclaimed Menschikoff. "I'll teach you respect for your betters." And, raising his cane, he brought it down on the soldier's shoulders.

Thwack, thwack, thwack, thwack! Suddenly the door opened, and there stood the czar. His minister was laboring his guard, who received the blows bolt upright with his musket at "present."

"What's this?" asked the czar.

"This fellow denies me admittance to your majesty's presence," said Menschikoff.

The czar looked at the soldier, who did not open his mouth, still standing with his musket at "present."

"Well, come in," said the czar. Menschikoff entered, and the two were engaged for an hour upon business of state. When the minister made his exit Alexis had been relieved and another man put in his place.

That evening shortly before the lights were put out at the barracks Alexis received a summons to the palace. He felt sure that the minister had received from the czar permission to inflict upon him some terrible punishment. Indeed, he expected to be reprimanded, then taken out and shot.

"It doesn't matter," he said. "They have insisted on making a soldier of me against my will, and I am a soldier. What is a soldier for but to die?"

When he reached the palace he was taken into a large room, at one end of which he saw Menschikoff and the czar talking together. Peter held in his hand a cane, which he gave to Alexis when he came up and, pointing to the minister, said:

"This man struck you this morning; return the blow with my stick."

Menschikoff was astonished. "Does your majesty mean that? Surely you do not intend that a private soldier shall strike your minister?"

"That would not be right, I admit," said Peter. "I therefore make him a captain."

"But I am an officer in your majesty's household."

"I make him a colonel of my life guards and an officer of my household."

"But I am a general."

"And so be. I appoint him to that rank. You see I will not permit you to be struck by one of inferior rank."

That ended Menschikoff's protests, for there was nothing more to say. The czar motioned Alexis to begin, and the newly made general laid on the stick till the czar, who was greatly amused, signalled him to desist. Then Alexis was dismissed, and the officer who had brought him was instructed to see that he was lodged for the night at the palace in a manner becoming his station.

The next day Alexis was officially notified of his appointment to the various offices named by the czar. He was most anxious to go home and acquaint Olga with the good news, so he applied for a leave. It was at once granted, and as soon as he could get fitted with a general's uniform he started for home. When Olga saw him coming all bespangled with gold lace she thought that he had been killed in battle and this was his wraith coming to mock her, so she straightway swooned. When she came to her lover was bending over her, looking into her blue eyes with his own of the same heavenly hue.

There was great rejoicing in the families that had been so cast down by the conscription, and when Alexis went back to the capital to fill his various positions he took Olga with him.

How he managed to perform the duties of these positions has not been handed down to us, but we know that he and his wife founded a family that took high rank in Russian affairs.

GEORGE DISNEY MILLS.

PREVENTION AND CURE.

We once visited a poultryman who pointed with pride to a great accumulation of bottles, patent poultry nostrums and prescriptions and exclaimed, "This is my medicine chest."

But with all this his poultry were always ailing. He may have been long on poultry physic, but was very short on prevention.

The man who is proficient in physics and prevention need not make a drug store of his birds. It's much easier and more profitable to lead your fowls safely round the precipices of disease than to get them back after they've gone over. And how easy to keep them well generally when the causes of disease are so well known. Here they are in brief:

Fifth, improper feeding, crowding, vermin, dampness, drafts, extremes of heat and cold, exposure and egg tonics. There may seem accidental causes where diseases are introduced by strange birds, originate in heredity or from floating germs.

But every stranger should be quarantined. Only strong stock should be bred from, and birds in health and sanitary environment offer little encouragement to germs seeking lodgment.

Yes, my friend, you are wise to be prepared for war.

You should accumulate a library of good medical works, acquire a knowledge of the symptoms of every known fowl disease, and you should by your study, observation and experiment be able to detect the first symptoms of disease and make a correct diagnosis and have the remedy right there to cure or the wisdom to see the incurable and to end it with the ax.

But what does it amount to if you, Mr. Chicken Doctor, have not learned the old lesson that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure?"

A physician depends for his living on doctoring people who are sick, but has nothing to do with their getting sick.

A poultryman depends for a living on keeping his fowls well and has everything to do with their being in health or sickness.

If through ignorance of the requirements his birds are afflicted and he meets with loss he is to be greatly pitied, but if he sins against knowledge he deserves no sympathy and only condemnation.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

German experts have tested the water glass egg preservative and find eggs keep well four years.

You should make a truck for hauling your brooders and colony houses from place to place. The wheels may be found on a foundry scrap pile; the rest you can make yourself.

There is nothing in the statement that soft feed brings infertile eggs. We fed one pen nothing but oats, cut bone, greens and soft wash of bran and mids, and their eggs were highly fertile.

Your early chicks must not only be fed well, but they must be kept out of the wind and rain. Use heavy matting on the wire pens to break the wind, keep out rain and the hot sun.

If your watchdog went to roost with the chickens and got the distemper it certainly shows the scratching litter was damp enough. Maybe when local option comes your way you'll keep dry.

Homers in good health carry the head erect, have a bright, clear eye, and the feathers cling tightly to their plump bodies. When pigeons loaf and puff up their feathers, get the louse gun.

When a thunderstorm threatens to catch those chicks in a hurry simply have a piece of raw meat handy. Our chicks pile over each other for it, and we gather up a thousand in a few minutes.

At one time a fresh egg was equal to a pound of meat. Now scientists say four eggs do the stunt. But you never see a gilt edge sign to this effect in meat markets, and their storage eggs are equal to anything.

The real causes of leg weakness in chicks are heavy winds and running on board floors. To prevent it get them out on the ground soon as they are gape proof and clip the wings. Do not pull the wing feathers. It is cruel.

When you get brain fag take time off or you may serve up stale ideas or have a brain storm. Fresh air and garden spading, chickens and cherry tree climbing are preventives. What are the symptoms and sensations of a brain fag? Is yours chronic?

Ireland is not only organized for liberty, but for poultry culture. Fifteen thousand dozen of thoroughbred eggs were distributed last year. The appropriation for some counties reached $5,000. Women are employed to lecture on chickens at $45 a month. These women certainly can lecture.

Los Angeles has the largest pigeon plant in the world. Fifty thousand pigeons, mostly white, are housed in cages and a large shed building. They eat three tons of wheat a day. What a fluttering and flapping of white wings as they rise for flight. What a tremendous stir when they return.

Your customer kicked on your last shipment because the dressed chickens were dark and had a bad odor. Yes, of course they were fresh and yellow when you shipped. You cool them too quickly. By putting them at once into ice you drive the animal heat into the crop and entrails and they ferment. Gradually drive out the animal heat by three changes of well water before using ice.

"I am going into the poultry business to be my own boss," says one. Don't get gay, my friend. You'll padle your own canoe against a rock, and it might be a Plymouth Rock poultry farm too. The poultryman not only gets hempenked, has no holidays, can't blow in money at seashore resorts, but the business, if done right, is the most exacting boss. A few side issues put on the varnish.

MILITIA

Watching Plot to Burn Property as It Is Feared Night Riders Will Become Active.

Ripley, June 2.—The reason of holding the soldiers here until Sunday instead of allowing them to depart today, has just leaked out. The military authorities had what was deemed almost positive information of a plot to burn William Martin's house and barn and the warehouse of Maddox Brothers, all near Hiett, Brown county. The attack was to be in retaliation for Martin's and Maddox's work in helping the troops in their neighborhood. The affair is supposed to be planned for tonight, and trap has been set for the night riders should they attempt to make good their threats. Lieutenant West, with 15 men, has gone to that section to reinforce Lieutenant Kennedy, who has 20 men.

Good rains last night made a tobacco season in Brown county, and farmers whose plants were late are taking advantage of the season to finish setting.

OBITUARY

GEO. W. VAN FOSSEN, JR.

Their many friends in Newark will be grieved to learn of the great sorrow that has come to the family of Rev. Geo. W. Van Fossen, former rector of Trinity church. A message from Mr. Van Fossen received yesterday afternoon, announced the death of his little son, George W. Van Fossen Jr. The cause of his death was not stated.

COL. J. H. WOODARD.

Col. J. H. Woodard, whose funeral is being held Thursday afternoon at his home in Cincinnati, and whose brilliant military and civil record has attracted attention all over the country, was formerly the husband of Miss Amanda Cannon, of this city, now deceased, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Malinda Cannon, of Smith avenue, and an aunt to J. W. Cannon, a local furniture worker, formerly of Ulica, and to Mrs. James Holdbrook, of 186 South Second street.

Col. Woodard was an old newspaper correspondent and a man of considerable political prestige, having in a prized collection of official letters, a recommendation for a consulship, addressed to President R. B. Hayes, from James A. Garfield.

For his first wife, Col. Woodard married Miss Cannon, of this city. Some time after her death, about 20 years ago, he was married to Miss Minnie A. Crawford, of Danville, Ill., who survives with the family of six children, two of them. Mrs. C. W. Dodsworth, of Long Beach, Cal., and Captain Wilkie Woodard, of Syracuse, N. Y., were by the first wife.

W. DEMONIA.

As the result of injuries received by being struck by an interurban car at the corner of Pine and Maholin streets, two weeks ago, W. Demonia, aged 88 years, died Wednesday evening at the Houck home, 81 James street, West Newark, where he resided.

The aged man was for some time in the employ of the Jewett Car company, working at odd jobs, and on Thursday, June 11, was walking across Pine street and stepped between two interurban cars, the second car striking him before he could get out of the way or the motor man could stop.

The aged man has no immediate relatives living here, and the funeral hour has not been set. Interment will probably be made in this city, however.

OFFICERS

Elected by District Epworth League Convention—White Cottage Gets Next Meeting.

The Wednesday afternoon session of the District Epworth League convention, which has been held here during the past two days, opened at 1:30 o'clock. After devotional exercises and reports of the leagues of the district, it was decided to hold the next convention at White Cottage, Muskingum county, in 1909. The following officers were elected:

President—H. H. Wilbur, Zanesville.

First vice president—I. M. Phillips, Newark.

Second vice president—Miss Mina Calhoun, New Lexington.

Third vice president—P. L. Vanatta, Crooksville.

Fourth vice president—Etta Burley, Mt. Sterling.

Cor. Secretary—Mrs. Della Bash, Newark.

Secretary—Nellie Zentmeyer, Dresden.

Junior League superintendent—Miss May Iret, Rossview.

Treasurer—Frank Holcomb, Malta.

Organist—Emma Farrell, Rehoboth.

Executive committee—Rev. M. E. Cunningham, Miss Alice Roberts, Miss Buell.

After the election of officers, a department conference of all the league officers of the district was held and ways and means of conducting leagues and how to obtain the best results were discussed at considerable length.

At the conclusion of the afternoon meeting the delegates and others in attendance at the convention went out to Idlewild Park in special cars and held a most enjoyable picnic.

The closing session of the convention was held at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. After devotional services Miss Rose Shiver sang a beautiful solo, which was followed by an address by Thos. H. Housel of Marietta, on "The Strategy of the Spiritual Warfare." This was followed by a sextette of ladies from the church singing a beautiful number, after which the convention adjourned.

THE DAIRYMAN.

A small pasture handy to the dairy barn in which the cows may be allowed to eat at night during mild weather is a great help. Much of the feed consumed at night does more good than that taken in the daytime.

Next Butter Prints.

For private dairymen there is probably no better package than the pound print wrapped in parchment paper. It is well to have a brand engraved in the print which will leave its impress upon every pound of good butter sold, but never send any poor butter under this brand, as it would be liable to spoil one's reputation. All butter prints and butter packages should present a neat, clean appearance and never be allowed to be smeared with particles of butter or stained with imprints of dirty fingers.

Scours in Calves.

If the calf begins scouring, at once cut down the feed of milk. The presence of scours is the best indication of indigestion, and indigestion in the case of the calf comes most frequently from overfeeding.

Keeping a Milk Record.

A record of the daily milk yield should always be kept not only for the purpose of knowing what each cow produces, but in order to know her daily condition and how much feed she ought to have. The milk sheet will reveal the condition of the cow quicker than anything else. As long as she eats well and the milk yield increases rapidly the more feed may be given. The place to stop increasing the feed will be shown by the slow increase in milk yield.

Stable Ventilation.

If your stable is ventilated only from above you are drawing off the warm air, which means loss to the cows in comfort and loss of the purest air. Foul air must be drawn off on a level with the stable floor, for bad air is much heavier than good air. When the cows lie down and the ventilation is poor they breathe foul air. It has its effect on the cows as well as on the product.

Some Good Advice.

Here are some good pointers from a prosperous New York dairyman: Kindness to the cows pays big dividends at the pail. Absolute regularity is one of the essentials of success in dairymaking. A frequent change of diet is a good thing, but make change slowly or you will upset and derange the milk flow. Test the cows frequently. "Star boarders" have no place in a richly conducted dairy. Always wipe off udder with a cloth before milking. The first few drops of milk drawn from udder contain more or less impurities and should be kept out of pail. A cheap and very useful milking stool is made of the spool from which barrel wire has been removed. Saw off the ends so it will set level and cut a board to fit on top. Make a hand hole through the board, and the stool is ready to use.

FROM DREAM TO REALITY.

(Original.)

Once upon a time a family, consisting of a young man, his wife and two little children, lived in a cabin near a pottery in England. The wife did the cooking, took care of the home and the children, while the husband worked in the pottery. Edmund Spier was not a very good workman. He was rather inclined to study processes for saving labor or of producing new and useful articles.

His wife, who was a practical woman, had to bear her share of her husband's handicap. She often argued with him as to the futility of dreaming about new processes none of which he had the ability to invent and being thus drawn from hard work which might advance his wages and render the family more comfortable. But it is impossible to change people's dispositions, and Molly Spier at last gave up trying to change that of her husband.

Meanwhile there was no addition to the comforts of the home. The harder was no better, the furniture was getting more shabby, and the children were ragged. What with the cooking, the housework and the patching of clothes Molly Spier was having a hard time of it. But with all her practicality her amiable disposition could not more be changed than could her husband's proclivity to dream. But one day Edmund came home from the factory with a burning fever on him, and it was evident that he was in for a protracted illness.

There were no unions in those days to take care of a man when he was ill, and the Spier family suffered greatly. Molly Spier got odd jobs to do, which helped to keep them from starving. Edmund applied to his employer for help. The pottery owner was a cold, calculating business man and repelled that if he began to pay wages to one of his men while ill he would end in having to pay all under similar circumstances. This killed all hope of obtaining anything from that direction.

One day Molly spent what money she had on hand for some fresh pork. Having bought more of it than she could use in a short time because it was cheap, she determined to cure a part of it. Putting some salt in a common cooking vessel such as was used in those days, an unglazed porous affair, she filled it with water and set it on the stove to heat. Then she went out to attend to another matter.

Edmund, who was now convalescent, was in the only other room in the cabin spending his time, as usual, day dreaming. He began by inventing in imagination a vessel hard glazed like glass, a substance that no water could penetrate and neither heat nor cold crack. Having invented this imaginary vessel, he proceeded to sell his invention for a fabulous sum, build a house, dress his wife in silks and satins and the children in equally fine apparel. He heard something sizzling in the kitchen, and it occurred to him that he should go in there and see what was wrong and correct it. But at that moment he was figuring up his fortune, and the matter passed out of his mind.

He was still dreaming when he heard Molly go into the kitchen and utter an exclamation of impatience. Then she came into where Edmund was lying, holding an empty saucepan, and for once since his illness lost her equanimity.

"All the salt I had is gone," she said. "I put it on a hot fire with water, which boiled over. Besides, just look at the saucepan. There's something on the outside that won't be rubbed off. The pan is spoiled for looks if not for use. I do think you might have gone into the kitchen and prevented the damage."

Edmund took the saucepan in his hand and examined it. Where the salt and water had boiled over the vessel was glazed. He scratched it with his nail without effect. He took out his pocketknife and tried to scrape it off, all to no purpose.

"Molly," he said, "you've made us rich."

She turned away with an expression of impatience. He got up and hid the saucepan under the bedclothes. Then, with a step so strong that his wife looked at him with amazement, he went out and bought on credit a bag of salt. Before he went to bed that night he had roughly glazed every cooking vessel in the cabin.

The next day he broke up one of the vessels and took a piece to the owner of the pottery. "How did you do it?" asked the potter. "That's my secret," Edmund replied. "What do you want for your secret?" "A third interest in your pottery."

Time passed, during which the potter submitted the glazing to scientists, offering a large sum to any one who would tell him how it had been effected. But none of them could tell. Only Edmund and Molly Spier knew, and Molly proved that a woman can keep a secret. Besides, Edmund convinced her of its value. Weeks passed, during which hunger still made its abode in their cabin. Edmund was offered a large sum for his secret. He declined. Then he was offered a quarter interest in the pottery. But he held firm, and Molly at last caught the infection of his confidence till his terms were complied with on condition that it prove practicable and not too expensive.

The dreamer's dream was realized. Only he had nothing to do with the invention. It was Molly's. From a cabin the Spier family removed to a commodious dwelling and afterward to a palace. Molly Spier was indeed dressed in silk and satins, and the children were brought up in luxury.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, O., June 25—The Iron Trade Review today says:

Conspicuous in the week's events are two developments that possess much significance to producers and consumers of iron and steel. The most important of these is that affecting the railroads which traverse the great corn and wheat belts. Quite recently, instructions were issued by several of the western trunk lines to prepare at once for immediate rejuvenation of their track and rolling stock and already specifications have been issued for a good sized tonnage of iron and steel and other equipment.

Most of this material was purposely deferred until the expiration of the fiscal year, but with this period past, or almost at hand, energetic efforts are under way by the railroads to be in readiness by early fall to handle the enormous traffic growing out of this movement of the crops. That the harvest this year will be a bumper one, and that the activity of the railroads is no idle dream is further evidenced by the extraordinary demand for agricultural implements. The International Harvester company is shipping from its various plants as high as 10, 15 and 20 trainloads of machinery and implements daily, and other manufacturers report proportionate activity. The rush of orders has developed an active demand for soft steel and iron bars. Most of the implement manufacturers have been caught with warehouses full of raw material and finished machines to an extent not experienced in many years, and manufacturing operations are being conducted night and day to overtake the demand. Mills supplying these materials have on the impetus growing out of assured crop conditions, but in other lines the market is dull.

Newark Not "Dead Easy"

The turning down of the bids for the water works construction by the Board of Public Service yesterday was doubtless an enlightenment to certain foreign bidders on contracts of this character. The action of the Board brings to mind an incident that occurred at Pittsburg in the year 1905, when this city was advertising for bids on the original water works contract. At a conference of bidders at that time in that city one of the parties made the bold statement that "everything was dead easy in Newark, Ohio, except the newspapers."

It is to be hoped that all such fellows will revise all opinions of this uncomplimentary character that they may have had concerning Newark citizens, officially or otherwise. It will be a good thing for them to fully appreciate that Newark is not "dead easy."

Regarding their complimentary opinions of the Newark newspapers it is to be hoped that they will continue in that belief. So far as the Advocate is concerned it is always a source of pride to be on the side of the people's interests in all such matters.

OHIO MAGAZINE.

On petition of Hon. W. P. Huntington, editor of the Ohio Magazine, by his attorney, Judge Rogers has appointed L. P. Stephens receiver of the Ohio Magazine Publishing company. Mr. Huntington says:

"This action is a friendly one and is taken with the concurrence of all those directly interested in the magazine. The object is reorganization on a substantial basis and the resumption of publication in the near future under favorable conditions. Since its establishment two years ago the Ohio Magazine has made remarkable progress, in view of its original limited resources. It began to pay expenses when only nine months old, and continued to do so for six months, when the hard times interrupted this record of prosperity. The only embarrassment now is the debt created during the first nine months of operation. All those who have knowledge of the company's affairs are confident that with anything like reasonable resources, under a proper reorganization, the magazine will be a very profitable enterprise."

The Advocate is glad to know that the Ohio Magazine will not be allowed to die. That it has a mission is unquestioned, and that it has been a popular feature with Ohioans everywhere there is little doubt. The Ohio Magazine during its two years of existence has published many valuable and interesting Ohio feature "stories" and friends of the Magazine everywhere will rejoice when publication is resumed.

The Protestant, Catholic and Jewish denominations of Oakland, Cal., have organized under one constitution a society of the pastors to help along the church work of the city.

The Church of England Waifs and Strays Society has taken care of 13,476 children in the 26 years that it has been in operation.

WILL YOUR ESTATE BE A BUNCH OF RENT RECEIPTS?

Is it not business to invest your earnings and keep them invested? Experience has proven that fortunes invested in real estate have remained intact through more generations than when invested in any other form of property.

For the head of the family the title to his home means the saving of rents and the possession of an asset constantly increasing in value. Values in real estate have been created by the growth of population. These are factors which tend to increase the demand for, and decrease the supply of real estate.

We are now building modern houses and will offer lots for sale with or without houses, in my new addition, corner of Church and Eighth streets. Streets will be improved by paving, cement walks, gas and water to property lines, no special taxes, all improvements are paid. When all improvements are made these houses and lots will soon sell and you will have lost another opportunity to better your condition.

Can you afford to let this opportunity pass?

IMPORTANT

To Shippers is New Rule on Marking of Freight.

The railroads governed by the Official Classification in freight matters have been distributing to their patrons copies of a circular issued by the chairman of the Official Classification Commission which is reproduced in part, as follows:

"Notice is hereby given that, effective July 1, 1908, Rule No. 3, as follows, will be strictly enforced:

Rule 3.—Each package, bundle or piece of less than carload freight must be clearly marked with the name of the shipper, the name of the commodity, the name of the station, town or city, and the state to which destined (See Note).

The marks on packages, bundles or pieces must be compared with the shipping order and bill of lading, and corrections, if necessary, made by the consignor or his representative before receipt is signed; old marks must be removed or effaced before packages, bundles or pieces will be accepted for transportation.

Freight consigned to a place of which there are two or more of the same name in the same state, must have the name of the county marked on each package, bundle or piece, and also shown on the shipping receipt.

When freight is consigned to a place not located on the line of a railroad, each package, bundle or piece must be marked with the name of the station at which the consignor will accept delivery, or if received in connection with a water line with which there are no joint rates in effect, the name of the place at which delivery is to be made to such water line must be marked on each package, bundle or piece.

Freight not marked in accordance with the foregoing rules will not be accepted for transportation.

Note.—Pasted labels or securely fastened tags should be used only when the character of the freight prevents marking by brush or stencil.

To Shippers and Patrons.—Your earnest co-operation in the matter of marking L. C. L. shipments is solicited. It means for you a relief from vexatious delays, losses, complaints and claims heretofore caused by improper marking. We only ask for co-operation in a reasonable business requirement which, if readily given, we can assure you will result in great mutual benefit.

Since suitable marking of all articles only is aimed at, and the benefit to shipper and receiver that accrues if a shipment of one or more articles gets to the proper destination at the proper time and in the proper condition is obvious, it seems reasonable to believe the regulation will be observed without complaint.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Shippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at F. D. Hall's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

ONE CERTAINTY

Some Newark People Fully Realize It Now.

When the back aches from kidney ills. When urinary troubles annoy you, There's a certain way to find relief; A sure way to be cured. Doan's Kidney Pills will do it. Newark people endorse this claim. John W. Lippincott, 127 No. Eleventh street, Newark, Ohio, says: "I suffered from rheumatism for a long time and often had such severe pains across my loins that I could not move until the attacks passed off. There was a constant dull aching across the small of my back and if I moved quickly or brought any strain on the muscles of my back, I was rewarded with sharp knife-like twinges throughout my body. My back became very weak and the least exertion completely exhausted me. Fear of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Crayton's drug store, started using them and they gave me prompt relief. I was so encouraged that I continued their use until entirely free from my trouble." (From statement given November 7, 1904.)

RESULTS TELL.

On Nov. 26, 1907, Mr. Lippincott said: "I cheerfully confirm my former recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills as the benefit I obtained from their use has remained permanent. I have never been in better health than at the present time and owe my good condition to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

RAGTIME PRAISED

St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—Ragtime is the germ of the future national type of American music, according to Oscar Hatch Hawley, president of the Missouri State Music Teachers' Association, whose convention opened Wednesday at the Church of the Messiah. "The American type of music is characterized with a verve and dash not found elsewhere," said President Hawley. "Just as there are marked peculiarities of the Russian, Polish, Teutonic and Italian schools, so our own music will be illustrative of a great, nervous, virile people."

"The resthetic musician despises crude ragtime, yet it is the germ of our coming American type by which it will be known the world over. Composers and teachers have recognized this. They are working now to make an exalted, refined ragtime movement. But the basic ingredient always is there. It is the very blood and life of American compositions. We call it syncopated rhythm. The great Edward McDowell, now dead, recognized this in his masterpiece, 'Sonata Tragic'. The syncopation is there, chastened and made more subtly charming. Dvorak, while residing in this country, sensed it as the essence, hence the same dancing, undulating strain is found in his American symphony."

Two ragtime classics were sung before the convention, and there was a feast of refined ragtime last night.

HOSE

That Men Wear, and Also Garters Were Seen Through Directors' Gown Slits.

Old Orchard, Maine, June 25.—Men's half hose, the real genuine kind carefully supported by men's red garters, clasped about the calf of the leg, is the sensation that eight Cleveland, Ohio, girls have sprung on the people in this aristocratic summer resort.

The girls are Tacedora Henrietta Marie of Euclid avenue, Miss Elsa Goldthwaite Thayer, Miss Eloise Huston, Miss Eva Osgood Taylor, and the Misses Holmes, Harper, Eberle and Sweetland.

The girls are stopping at one of the most fashionable hotels in the city. Last night they appeared at dinner in Directors' gowns of the very latest fashion models.

Through the daring little slit at the side could be seen the half hose and the diamond-studded gold buckles of the men's garters used to support them. The affair has created a sensation here.

JAP THEATRE IN HONOLULU

Honolulu, T. H., June 25.—The Japanese of Honolulu have just opened a new theater here which is larger than either of the two American play houses in the city. The local Japanese also maintain two other theaters besides the one just opened.

The new Asahi theater is a compromise between the play houses of Japan and those of the Occident. The patrons may sit on the little mats spread on the floor in one portion of the pit, or they may occupy regulation seats in the gallery and boxes and in the dress circle of the main floor. The entrance to the stage may be made by the actors and pseudo actresses from the wings, or they may first come into view of the audience from the rear of the auditorium and reach the stage by the elevated promenade that runs along one wall, as is done in the older fashioned theaters of Japan.

The theater is filled up with the latest electrical devices, and the scenery in stock is very good. The productions presented are to a large extent patterned after Occidental drama, but have been customary on the Japanese stage until recently. A large stock company holds the boards every night in the week.

Two hundred and fifty Eagles from Newark bought tickets at the interurban ticket office Thursday morning for Zanesville, while a hundred and fifty went to the Clay City over the B. & O., escorted by the Licking Aeroband. In all, over 500 Newarkites went to attend the last day's session of the convention of Eagles at Zanesville.

Special cars were run on the interurban line all day bearing large numbers of Columbus and surrounding town visitors. It was stated Thursday that full 1,000 Columbus people, Eagles and their friends, passed through Newark, while a big delegation of Delaware "feathered ones" went through.

Two bands from Columbus, and one from Delaware went through on the C. N. & Z., while special trains over the B. & O. carried hundreds from Sandusky, Mansfield and Mt. Vernon that could not be accommodated by the regular trains.

Zanesville, O., June 25.—(Special.)—The largest parade ever witnessed in this city was that given by the state Eagles this forenoon, being two and a half miles long with 3500 men in line, escorted by twelve bands.

The prizes awarded to the aeries for numbers were as follows: Newark, first prize for having the largest proportion of membership in the parade, $35.

Cambridge, first prize of $100 for the largest delegation; also first prize of $35 for the best appearing delegation.

Columbus, second prize, of $25, for the largest delegation.

Delaware, first prize, $35, for the most unique outfits.

This afternoon a big barbecue is being held at Gant park, and a big time will close the convention.

(By Advocate Correspondent.)

Zanesville, O., June 25.—George H. Hamilton, of Newark, candidate for the office of state chaplain of the Order of Eagles, was defeated here in the convention last evening, by Judge Fred Nellis of Cleveland, on the third ballot by a majority of but seven votes. Mr. Hamilton is being heartily congratulated on the gallant race he put up, and has assurance of enough aeries for support for the office next year when the convention is held at Lima.

In the race for state chaplain there were three candidates, Judge Nellis, Mr. Hamilton, and Otto Laufer, present state conductor, aspiring for advancement. The first ballot resulted in Hamilton getting 76 votes, Nellis 51, and Laufer 31. Just before the second ballot Joe Dowling of Dayton, who supported Judge Nellis, put a motion that the candidates present themselves upon the stage. Mr. Hamilton assented, saying that he was not a candidate for the office on his looks. The second ballot resulted in Hamilton receiving 76 votes, Nellis 69, Laufer 25. Laufer was then dropped from the race and the third ballot was taken, resulting as follows: Nellis 87, Hamilton 80.

Mr. Hamilton's defeat came from Cincinnati. There was a hot fight on between Cincinnati and Cleveland, and, although Mr. Hamilton claimed six votes from Cincinnati, that delegation held a caucus and decided on unit rule, which, of course prevailed. Cleveland had 13 votes, and Hamilton received 12 of them on each ballot.

Mr. Hamilton's name was presented by Rees Jones of Newark, and was seconded by Mayor Haas, of Delaware. The Newark candidate for the office of state chaplain was honored at the opening of the convention by being elected to the position of resolutions, the most important committee of the session.

PRESIDENT OF THE OPTIMIST CLUB

New York, June 25.—The Optimist Club of America, Wm. J. Robinson, president, although less than six months old, has a membership of something like 20,000 persons. In it are the governors of many states, including Charles E. Hughes of New York, Curtis Guild of Massachusetts, Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, E. W. Hoch of Kansas, and Charles S. Deneen of Illinois. The chairman of the executive committee is John C. Cutler of Utah.

Mr. Robinson, who is a mining expert, is the originator of the Optimist club. He himself is called the optimist at large.

The Optimist club was started by Mr. Robinson last fall, when financial conditions throughout the country had a discouraging effect upon mankind in general. At a club in Salt Lake city Mr. Robinson found a lot of the bluest human beings he had ever seen together. He said afterward they were all groaning over the depressed conditions with so much persistency that they themselves were having anything but a beneficial influence on the times. Mr. Robinson at once formed these men into a club whose principal excuse for existence was that must so condone itself through its members, all of whom agreed to look only on the optimistic side of things, as that its influence upon the people of the country as a whole would be a brightening one.

WILLIAM J. ROBINSON

The club began with the following cheerful definition, which it has continue to stick to: "Twixt optimist and pessimist the difference is droll; The optimist sees the doughnut, The pessimist the hole."

The club has branches in most of the big cities of the country, including Chicago, Boston, San Francisco, St. Louis, Kansas City, Duluth, Seattle and Minneapolis.

Sex Equality Cannot be Denied, the Professor Tells Convention of Women's Clubs.

Boston, June 25.—Welcomed by the executive heads of the state, the city and the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the 3,000 or more delegates gathered from all over the country to attend the ninth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs filled Symphony hall to overflowing last night and formally opened their convention, to be in session until July 1.

Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker, of California, presided. Mrs. Dimies T. A. Denison, of New York, delivered the first address, her topic being "The Long Path." Prof. Charles Zueblin of Chicago, spoke upon "Democracy and Culture." He said, in part:

"When we look about us we find that there are many millions of women working outside their own homes in this country. We find that girls take the honors at college, so that we have to put up the bars to keep them out of the colleges or they would swamp the co-educational colleges. When we begin to recognize the significance not only of women's industrial activity and educational and political activities, but of the indispensable element of woman's economic independence, we cannot any longer delay the vision of sex equality, even though we indefinitely delay its accomplishment."

Containing some 300 or more pages. Rev. Mr. Ainslie, recalling that he had never seen anything from the pen of Mr. Cleveland regarding the Bible, wrote him, explaining the purpose and scope of his book, and requesting him to contribute to the introduction. Several weeks ago he received in reply the following:

"I very much hope that in sending out this book you will do something to invite more attention among the masses of our people to the study of the New Testament and the Bible as a whole.

"It seems to me that in these days there is an unhappy falling off in our appreciation of the importance of this study. I do not believe, as a people, that we can afford to allow our interest in and veneration for the Bible to abate.

"I look upon it as the source from which those who study it in spirit and truth will derive strength of character, a realization of the duty of citizenship and a true appreciation of the power and wisdom and mercy of God."

Services Will be Brief and Simplicity of Funeral Will be Marked—Death Mask Taken.

Princeton, N. J., June 25.—Arrangements for the funeral of the late ex-President Cleveland occupied the attention of those to whom the widow had entrusted this task but they will not be completed until the arrival of President Roosevelt, who is expected to arrive here about noon tomorrow. Mrs. Cleveland continues to bear up well. The city is beginning to fill up with visitors who have come to pay the last tribute to the distinguished dead. Esther and Marion, only Cleveland children who will attend the funeral, are expected to arrive this evening. The simplicity of the funeral will be marked. Only those invited will be permitted to enter the grounds and the services will be brief. The death mask of Mr. Cleveland will be taken today. Mrs. Cleveland refused to have the remains lie in state. The coffin is of quarter sawed oak and simple in design. A plain silver plate will bear the words: "Grover Cleveland, March 18, 1857, June 24, 1908."

Lost When Ship Struck Rocks Off Corunna—Sixty-Five Are Rescued.

Corunna, Spain, June 25.—At least 160 persons are believed to have lost their lives in the sinking of the Spanish ship, Larache, which struck on the rocks off Corunna. Estimates of the number of passengers and crew vary, but it is thought of vessel had a total list of about 200, of which not more than half escaped. the house. Two arrests were made and the house pillaged.

If this continues, and for every arrest a house is bombed, there is danger for every one, both natives and foreigners.

FOREIGNERS ARE IN NO DANGER.

London, June 25.—Private dispatches received here from Tehran say that only a small number of persons were killed during the fighting in that city and that the firing was confined to the neighborhood of the national assembly. One dispatch says:

"The Shah apparently is the master of the situation at Tehran, but the attitude of the provinces is uncertain. Foreigners are in no danger."

The American Press has been informed that neither Great Britain nor Russia has any intention of interfering in the internal affairs of Persia unless the situation becomes much worse.

The Daily Mail's correspondent says:

"The bazaars were reopened today, and for a time everything was quiet. During the course of the afternoon, however, the Cossacks began bombarding some of the grandees' residences in which it was supposed opposition leaders had taken refuge. As usual looting followed the bombardment, the populace helping the troops to ransack the houses.

"A reign of terror prevails here, and it is not known how far the Shah is prepared to go in the way of violence. He is now taking steps to prevent an increase of the occasional terroristic attacks on the Cossack patrols."

GOVERNMENT WARNED

St. Petersburg, June 25.—The Slovo declares that a civil war, accompanied by all its horrors, has begun in Persia. The Shah for the moment, the paper says, has been successful, but the final outcome is doubtful, as the Shah's handful of troops may be defeated when the armed forces of the revolutionists arrive from the north. The Slovo sees no reason for international intervention as long as the lives of foreigners are safe and warns the government of the danger of any dealings whatever with the reactionary circles in Tehran, which might alienate the sympathy of the masses of the people and destroy Russian prestige in Persia.

The Bourse Gazette says the firing in Tehran was the beginning of the end. The Shah has burned his bridges and definitely cast his lot with the reactionaries. The sword must now decide whether the idea of popular representation is firmly rooted in Persia or not.

HILL TRIBESMEN

MURDER PARTY FROM MANILA.

Manila, June 25.—A telegram received here from the island of Negros tells of the murder of H. D. Everett, a government forester; T. R. Wakeley, a school teacher; and four Filipinos by hill tribesmen.

The party had started across the island of Negros, which is one of the least civilized of the extreme southern group of islands, and had been missing for six weeks. No details of the murders have been received here.

ARABS IN REVOLT.

Paris, June 25.—According to news received here from the west coast of Africa, the Arabs in the French dependency of Senegal, inspired by the events in Morocco, have risen against the French. The minister of colonies, has received information that the Arabs recently attacked two French columns, one of 32 men and the other of 47 men. Private dispatches received here from Dakar declare that both columns were wiped out.

Washington, June 25.—H. D. Everett, a native of New York, whose murder on the island of Negros by hill tribesmen is reported from Manila, was transferred to the Philippine forestry service from the forestry bureau here in August, 1905. T. R. Wakeley, a graduate of the University of Chicago, also killed, was 27 years old, and went from Chicago to teach school in the Philippines a year ago. The Negroes had given the authorities the least trouble of any people in the archipelago.

Although outhit, the Molders outhit the Mansfield Tigers in yesterday's game, and while we piled up three errors to the one chalked up for the visitors, ours didn't count and theirs did. Price was wild and both of the other runs secured by Newark resulted when a man was hit or walked. Both times the runner was sacrificed to second and both times Catcher Bob Williams drove him home with a two bagger. That's the story of the game in capsule form.

Qualley was hit freely but with the exception of the eighth inning he kept the hits well scattered. They got to him then for a double and two singles and two men scored. In the ninth after one man was down and two hits had been made off him resulting in a runner landing on third base. Qualley was pulled and Moore who had been warming up for several innings was substituted. Frank was on the job and struck the next man out, thus doing away with the squeeze play or a sacrifice fly to the outfield. The fans took a long breath and a fresh lease on life when Snyder made the third out by a catch in the outfield.

A very good crowd was present and they enjoyed the game, for Kramer had been removed and Handiboe substituted. He was good and gave general satisfaction except to the Tigers who got unruly on his hands and two of them were put off the lot. Handiboe was absolute master of ceremonies and when Hezzy Breymer tried to tell him a few things about a decision, the ump's told Hezzy a few things, the principal part of which that he was retired to the bench. Hezzy kept remarking a few things and was ordered from the grounds. The husky lad from Tipton refused to go until he saw Officer Burke who had been called by the umpire, approaching, and then he changed his mind and left.

Cap Biery, usually quiet while on the ball field, then handed out a few things to Handiboe and the result was that the policeman was again called and Burt followed in the footsteps of the big catcher. Then with peace again restored the game continued and a mighty pretty contest it was, too. The fielding of the Molders was fast and two of the prettiest double plays of the season were pulled off by them. Although three errors were recorded none of them cost anything and the brilliancy of the players more than made up for the wobbles they had.

The Tigers started things off from the first when Jewell bunted Qualley into putting one over the pan. Tom did, and the little lad did the rest. His enjoyment was short lived though for he took a nap that resulted disastrously. Melan fled out to Murray, who shot the ball to Winters who was holding down first, and Jewell was out. Mathey hit but in trying to steal the second corner he ran into a beautiful peg of Williams and was out.

Abbott scored for the Molders in the first when he was walked by Price. Snyder laid down a pretty sacrifice and Doe reached second. Smith walked on four wide ones and took second on Winters' hit to Jewell. He got Smith at the second base but in his anxiety to make a double he threw wild to first and Winters took second while Abbott scored. Winters, Winters and Williams figured in a fast double in the third and Reynolds was shut out at the home mat and the side retired by the play. Zeke led off with a single and on Harmon's sacrifice he took second. Price hit to Watters who threw to Winters, retiring Mansfield's premier, and Scotty snapped the ball home and Williams tagged Reynolds out while he was two feet from the desired rubber.

Fast playing by both sides was then indulged in until the seventh when the Molders counted once more for luck. Locke whiffed out and Murray was hit on the shoulder. It didn't hurt much or interfere with his throwing but it did land him on first. Watters was there with a short single and Murray reached second. Williams, who was in the limelight all during the game, was on the job for a two sacker and Murray trotted home. Qualley grounded out and Abbott was passed. Snyder hit to Jewell who got Doe at second.

The eighth was a nightmare for the Newark bugs, for Qualley seemed to be figuring on a long flight towards the starry dome. Jewell cracked out a double sacker and when Melan singled Jewell scored. Mathey sent the hide to the grass again and Melan tied the score. After four more men faced Qualley the side was retired with just the two runs in.

Things looked rather dark in the ninth when with but one man down Price and Jewell both singled, the fast little shortstop landing on second through a steal. Ecels then derrickled Qualley and Moore was sent in. He has proved to be a good emergency man and he again turned the trick by striking out Melan. Mathey fled out to Snyder and the atmosphere suddenly cleared for the fans.

When Murray faced him in the last of the ninth Price showed signs of wildness so Sandy waited and was given his base by the man loaned by Akron. Watters put down a pretty sacrifice and Murray legged it for second. Williams waited until a couple of wild ones passed him then he out-guessed Price who figured that if he would get one over Bob would let it pass. Robert had different thoughts as his drive through the pitcher's box and over second showed. Murray touched home and won the game and as a result Newark is only one game behind Lima for first division.

BEHIND THE BAT.

First Baseman Frank Gyll was out of the game yesterday on account of sickness. Gyll has been under the weather for some days past, but has kept on playing until he was forced to stop.

The work of the Molders was mighty fast yesterday and the team were on their toes all the time.

The napping of Williams and his work with the stick was the feature of the game. He also figured in a fast double play.

Today is ladies day at the park and a large crowd should be present.

If we win today and Lima loses we are tied for first place in the first division. Here's hoping we make it three straight from the Tigers and the Beaneaters can drop a few.

Remembering their defeat at Lancaster the last time they were there the Molders will try mighty hard to take two at least from the team that led the league for awhile.

The Night Riders of Portsmouth are playing some ball now and it is to be hoped that the outcasts from Springfield can give a good account of themselves.

Mansfield has lost four games by one run each. She always was the champion hard luck team of the league.

GRIFFITH QUIT.

Philadelphia, June 25.—Clark Griffith, manager of the New York baseball team of American league, tendered his resignation to Frank Farrell, owner of the team. Wednesday, Griffith asked to be relieved of the management of the team several days ago. Griffith said that he was disheartened and felt that he should get out and give Mr. Farrell a chance to try another manager. Elberfeld is suggested as a probable successor to Griffith.

GANS VS. NELSON

San Francisco, June 25.—Indications point to Joe Gans entering the ring on July 4 against Battling Nelson as a 2 to 5 favorite. His price fell to 6 to 10 over night, and the only money it sight had the Gans color. Gans has arranged for a special wire into his hotel at Baltimore the day of the battle. He is using it for advertising purposes and has instructed his manager to have notices of it posted on bill boards throughout the city.

DAMAGES

SOUGHT BY DAUGHTER FROM HER FATHER FOR ALLEGED TRESPASSING.

Sullivan Case Will be Taken to Circuit Court—General News from Court House.

William Moore and Elizabeth Moore have filed a petition in the Common Pleas court against Matthew W. Yoakam, to recover, by reason of trespass and malicious destruction of property belonging to them, damages in the sum of $500. The plaintiff, Elizabeth Moore, is the daughter of the defendant and recently the defendant prosecuted a suit against his daughter and her husband to eject them from premises in Burlington township, which the Moores claimed had been given to them by Mr. Yoakam. A judgment was obtained by Mr. Yoakam and his wife before the justice of the peace of Burlington township, to which judgment the Moores filed a motion in the Common Pleas court to reverse the judgment of the justice of the peace. This motion was not allowed by the Common Pleas court and thereupon Wm. and Elizabeth Moore appealed the case to the Circuit court and gave bond as they were required to do by the Common Pleas court. The plaintiffs claim that notwithstanding the appeal of the case and the giving of the bond, the defendant, Yoakam, with the assistance of another man, by force and violence, entered the premises and took therefrom a large quantity of baled hay belonging to the plaintiffs and other personal property belonging to them, which they threw into the public highway.

A Talk on Olive Oil

SOME INSIDE FACTS, NOT GENERALLY KNOWN, BUT INTERESTING. "PURE" is usually supposed to describe the highest quality of OLIVE OIL, but such is by no means always true. Without exception, the oil imported here is the second, and more often the third pressing—which though pure, is very much inferior to the first expressed.

The best article obtainable in this market is the California product—THE SYLMA BRAND. This oil is obtained entirely from the first pressing of the fruit, and is not only strictly pure, but of the very highest MEDICINAL quality, and is also entirely palatable. We supply this article at the price usually charged for ordinary grades, and will be pleased to have our friends compare it with any other product.

DELIGHTFUL WEDDING

OCCURS IN THE STately BAPTIST CHURCH OF GRANVILLE WEDNESDAY.

Mr. Robert Goodman Bell of New York, and Miss Stella Marie Case joined in wedlock.

Granville, June 25.—The stately Baptist church of Granville, architecturally a masterpiece, was wonderfully beautiful in its decorations of white and green, Wednesday evening, in honor of the wedding of Miss Stella Marie Case of Granville and Mr. Robert Goodman Bell of New York.

Mr. William F. Chamberlin, organist of the First Presbyterian church of Dayton, Ohio, rendered an exquisite program of classic music on the organ, and promptly at 7.30 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march, the bridal party appeared, presenting a scene of rare beauty. The bridesmaids were Miss Honora Gibson, a Vassar graduate, gowned in exquisite white silk mull, made in empire style with girdle of pink embroidered rosebuds and heavily trimmed in lace, with insets of pink chiffon rosebuds, wreath of pink roses and carrying a shower bouquet of pink roses. Each maid in fair or dark and dainty beauty was gowned exactly alike and each carried the shower bouquet of pink roses and wore the wreath of the same. The ensemble was beautiful in the extreme; with Miss Gibson came Miss Kibler, daughter of Hon. Edward Kibler of Newark, Miss Laura Bell, cousin of Mrs. Stephen Jones of Chicago, Miss Ray Gilpatrick, daughter of Dr. Gilpatrick of Denison university, and last, Miss Helen Case, maid of honor, gowned in silk tissue over pink silk. Miss Case is one of the most beautiful girls of this section and she was superb in her empire robe of pink, trimmed elaborately with hand-made lace of the same shade and bands of pink panne velvet. Her dark hair was crowned with the wreath of rosebuds and exactly as did the others, she bore the great shower bouquet of pink roses. Then came the sweet, the dainty and well loved bride. The bridal robes were exquisite; the empire gown followed in beautiful elaboration the exact lines of the gowns of her maids. It was of white liberty satin, with panel of Princess lace from the corsage to the hem. The square neck was covered with lace and hand embroidery in exquisite, bewildering elaboration. The long veil falling to the hem of the long empire train was caught with a little coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride roses. She was lovely to look upon as she passed down the aisle on the arm of her father, Mr. Burton Case.

The best man was George L. Bell, Esq., of New York, brother of the groom and the ushers, Messrs. J. C. Frazier, J. A. Chard, New York, Frank W. Russem, Indianapolis, formerly of Elizabeth N. J., and E. R. Little of Norwalk, Ohio.

The Episcopal service was used in the wedding ceremony, the Rev. Dr. C. J. Baldwin officiating.

The wedding reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the house, where the great porch enclosed in greenery, and the house, the scene of so many well remembered gatherings, presented a flower bedecked appearance.

The reception party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Case, Mrs. Bell, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodman Bell, stood at the north end of the parlor under a floral white and green bell. Mrs. Case was beautifully gowned in cream tulle silk, elaborately trimmed in Princess lace; Mrs. Mabel Bell, the mother of the groom, in grey silk crepe. Acting as assistant hostesses were Mrs. J. Stuphen Jones, wearing a gown of heavy white silk and lace. Mrs. James Hopley in Princess gown pompadour silk, lavender and pale green, trimmed in Duchess lace, and Mrs. E. J. Dorsey in lavender brocade and lace.

The musical program at the house was given by Howard's orchestra of Columbus. The bride's table in the dining room was a dream of loveliness with the charming group about it and its magnificent suspended floral basket of pink roses and moss, in which the pink roses were growing.

The buffet supper was served by Seward of Columbus. On the porch his men served punch from a flower wreathed bowl, and from every corner of the house and every agency and June's loveliness flowers rendered the scene most picturesque. The parlor was decorated with a wreath of red roses, the den in yellow nasturtiums, and the dining room in pink roses with candles blooming in pink. The air of the house was sweet with the fragrance of flowers and the sound of music.

The bride comes, on her father's side, from one of the oldest Granville families, who members both here and in Westfield, N. Y., have shown the interest in substantial and loyal ways towards Granville and its history. On her grandmother's side she is descended from the Howells and Pionsons of Morristown, N. J., her great grandfather being Elias Howell, a famously staunch Whig, elected to Congress in this strongly Democratic district and representing this district in Congress for many years. She is a Vassar girl, a member of the class of 1904, and one of the most popular girls in the school where her talents in versification and athletics were equally apparent. She is a member of the Kappa Phi Sorority and the Sheperdson Glee Club. In the latter she has taken all the prizes offered for clever and musical verses for three years past, and has contributed to the Ohio Magazine prose of a very high order. Her character she is of the sort which is known, is to love. From her childhood she has been surrounded with friends attracted by her own sweet, sincere ways and loyal and devotedness.

The groom is a young business man of New York City, the son of the late Robert G. Bell, Esq., a man of delightful character and a lawyer of ability. In the visits he has made to Granville, those who have been so fortunate as to know have lost their hearts to him. Congratulations were showered upon him, and no less warm were the good wishes expressed to the bride. They seem singularly fitted for happiness and the prayers and hopes of hosts of friends follow them into their new life.

Magnificent gifts expressed the love in which they are held and among them is a brooch of pearl, the set of which belonged to the bride's grandmother, and which her grandfather has reset, the gold being entirely hand-wrought in skillful and artistic manner by him.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell left Wednesday evening for the East and after July will be at home to their friends at Queens, Long Island.

Of Granville Handsomely Entertained by Editor W. H. Kussmaul With Delightful Luncheon.

Granville, O., June 25.—Mr. W. H. Kussmaul of the Granville Times celebrated his birthday anniversary by entertaining the members of the Granville Social Club at a supper. Nearly all the members of the club were present and a most enjoyable time was had. Following was the menu:

Turtle Soup
Radishes
Soft Shell Crabs on Toast
French Fried Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Punch
Cold Ham
Wafers
Cheese

At the close of the supper Col. E. J. Case, on behalf of the members of the club, in a neat speech, presented Mr. Kussmaul with a handsome silver smoking set, and a box of Williams' Penicillin. Mr. Kussmaul, although greatly surprised, was equal to the occasion and in words that came direct from the heart, thanked his friends for their kind remembrance.
